

NEW YORK SHELTERS FIRST SURVIVORS OF VOLTURNO TO ARRIVE IN THE U. S.

Grosser Kurfuerst Arrives With 105 Survivors of Terrible Sea Disaster

REVEAL MANY HEROES

From the Saved Come Graphic Stories of Heroism of Cap- tain, Officers and Crew

CHEMICAL EXPLOSION CAUSE

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—New York took in and sheltered today the first survivors of the steamship Volturno to arrive in this country, 105 in number, brought into port by the Grosser Kurfuerst, the North German-Lloyd liner that sent the first rescue boat careening across the heavy seas that made so difficult the task of removing passengers and crew from the burning ship.

The wireless had brought ashore graphic accounts of last week's sea tragedy and today from the lips of some of the Volturno's saved there came descriptions which, containing the intimate details for which the world had waited, accentuated the heroic conduct of the Volturno's captain, officers and crew and of men who manned the life boats that put forth from other ships.

The explosion of a drum containing chemicals was the cause of the fire, according to the story told by Waldron Disselman, third officer of the Volturno. Disselman gave a thrilling narrative of the long hours spent on his fire-fighting ship, fighting the flames, sustaining the crippled wireless plant, lowering life boats, quieting the panic-stricken, steering the vessel by hand to keep her from drifting, fighting the battle unaided because the waves were running too high for small craft from other ships to accomplish the journey to the Volturno's side. More than eighty passengers were burned to death when they were cut off by flames, Disselman reported.

Lloyd Another Hero.

Ranking well up with the bravery displayed by Captain Inch of the Volturno, were the feats of during several of his officers, among them Second Officer Lloyd. While ten ocean liners maneuvered about the Volturno after darkness had settled Thursday, Captain Inch wirelessed:

"We can't stand this long. Our boats are gone. Send boats."

No rescue boats came in response to Inch's wireless.

Then Second Officer Lloyd measured up to the mark. Taking four men with him he entered a damaged life boat, the Volturno's last, and showed that the seas could be lived upon. Second Officer Von Carlsburg of the Grosser Kurfuerst told the story of how Lloyd and his crew set the example for the other ships.

Sets Brave Example.

"Soon a light—it was Lloyd's pocket lamp—was seen dancing up and down on top of the waves," Von Carlsburg said, "and in a short time the Volturno's boat reached us. Second Officer Lloyd and his crew were in the boat and no sooner had they boarded the Kurfuerst than their boat sank, being nearly full of water. The trip had been experimental to see if it was possible for a small boat to live in the heavy sea."

Von Carlsburg commanded the first life boat that put out toward the Volturno as a result of Lloyd's venture. Besides the Grosser Kurfuerst, other of the liners that had come to the Volturno's assistance lowered lifeboats and assisted in the dangerous work of rescue. The Carmania, which had relayed the Volturno's wireless calls for help to the other steamships, did not despatch any life boats, according to Second Officer Lloyd of the Volturno.

Boat Rescues Twenty-one.

"When we got alongside the Volturno," said Second Officer Von Carlsburg of the Kurfuerst, describing the first boat's trip, "I heard screaming on board and I decided to keep away, for I figured that some of the panic-stricken people might jump into our boat and upset it. I shouted to the officers of the Volturno to tell the people to jump into the sea and they would be rescued."

"This advice was taken and we picked up man after man. When we got back to our ship I found we had rescued 21 men. The following

Report That Twenty Nine Men Are Found Alive In One of the Galleries Proves Er- roneous—Encounter Number of Bodies

RESCUERS WILL DEVOTE TIME TO FIRE

CARLEIGH, Wales, Oct. 15.—All hope of rescuing more of the miners entombed in the Universal colliery where an explosion occurred yesterday has virtually been abandoned. The report that a party of twenty-nine men had been found alive found in one of the galleries has proved to be erroneous, but a large number of bodies were encountered today.

No official reports have been issued and this has caused much comment. Fire broke out anew this afternoon and is still raging.

There is no further sign of life in the pit. Up to a late hour tonight, forty nine bodies had been recovered, while 368 miners were still entombed. The shift which went into the mine yesterday numbered 931.

The engineers have decided to devote their efforts to subduing the fire as they believe it useless to persist in the attempt at rescue.

This was the report of the bureau of sustentation today when the board of managers of the Methodist Woman's Home Missionary society began its thirty-second annual meeting here. The bureau lamented that such a state of affairs could exist "in this most highly favored land at this time of the high cost of living."

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. George H. Thompson of Cincinnati, showed that the receipts of the society for the past fiscal year were $961,622. In her annual address Mrs. George O. Robinson of Detroit, president of the board, denounced the law recently passed in Florida, prohibiting whites from teaching negroes and negroes from teaching whites.

SULZER'S FATE MAY BE KNOWN TONIGHT

COURT MAY TAKE FINAL VOTE AT OPEN SESSION THIS AFTERNOON

Case is believed to have progressed so far as to have reached an informal vote on guilt or innocence of the Governor on the first Article of Impeachment.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 15.—It is likely that the fate of Governor Sulzer will be known by tomorrow night. The high court of impeachment adjourned tonight, when it was said that the final vote probably would be taken at an open session tomorrow afternoon. No official confirmation of this report could be obtained, however.

There was an insistent rumor that the case had progressed so far as to have reached an informal vote on the guilt or innocence of the governor on the first article of the impeachment. This article charges the governor with falsifying his campaign statements. The names of only thirty-two of the fifty-seven members of the court had been called when it was decided to adjourn, it was announced. Each member, it was said, was given an opportunity to express his opinion on the merits of the article and the same procedure will be followed at the open session tomorrow afternoon.

Each member, it was understood, will be given the privilege of changing his informal vote at the public session tomorrow afternoon. The question as to whether article four of the impeachment charges should be amended to include the testimony of Duncan W. Peck and Henry L. Morgenthau or whether the assembly should be asked to bring an additional article covering the offenses alleged to day when the court voted to admit the Peck testimony into the article as it now stands. The decision was announced at a brief public session in the afternoon. It was rumored that the decision was reached by a vote of 41 to 16.

Previous to that there had been a long discussion, it was said, on the motion to send the testimony to the assembly. This motion, it was said, was defeated by a vote of 46 to 11.

ADVOCATE CHANGES IN CURRENCY BILL

Provision That Would Give Lower Interest Rates to People of Western States Advocated

WILL RESIGN THE CHARTERS

Many National Banks of Nebraska Are Said to Be Preparing to Resign Their Charters and Become State Banks

NEBRASKA BANKERS OPPOSE BILL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Changes in the administration currency bill that would give lower interest rates to the people of the newer states of the west were advocated in the senate banking and currency committee today.

Senators Hitchcock, Democrat, and Weeks, Republican insisted that all sections of the new country should join the same rates of rediscount under the federal reserve bank plan. They conceded that such a system undoubtedly would bring down interest rates in western states where money is now earning high rates. Both senators insisted, however, that all parts of the country are entitled to equal benefits under the new currency law. The bill as it passed the house would permit the federal reserve board to fix different rates in the different reserve districts.

William H. Bucholz of the Omaha National Bank, N. E. Branch of the First National Bank of Austin, Minnesota; William Jule of the Merchants and Mechanics Bank of Baltimore and Senator Thomas of Colorado, were before the committee during the day's hearing.

Oppose Administration Bill.

Mr. Bucholz declared many of the bankers of Nebraska opposed the administration bill as it now stands and that many national banks in that state were preparing to resign their charters and become state banks, unless some of the desired changes were made in the pending bill.

A plan to issue government bonds that would be exchangeable at all times for a special form of currency was presented to the committee by Senator Thomas. The plan was drawn by William A. Amberg, of Chicago. Some members of the committee expressed the opinion that such a plan would automatically regulate the volume of circulating currency.

Mr. Banfield representing country bankers, urged the committee to change the bill so farm mortgages running five years could be taken by banks as security for loans. The bill now limits such mortgages to one year and the amount of each loan to 25 per cent of a bank's capital and surplus.

Mann Blocks Efforts.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Republican Leader Mann again today blocked efforts of the house Democrats to recess three days to a time and refused to agree with Majority Leader Underwood that no legislation should be transacted before December 1 unless the currency bill should be returned from the senate before that time.

The DuPage county authorities are opposed to accepting Spencer's confession. ALLEGES ATTEMPTS OF JURY TAMPERING

EFFORTS TO PROCURE JURY IN DONA- HOE-STEIFEL CASE INTERRUPTED

Defendant Donahoe Declares To Judge Pam That He Was Approached by Venireman E. H. Leiby Who Asserts He Can Aid the Defendant and That "They Are Going To Job You."

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Efforts to procure a jury to try Daniel Donahoe and Isaac Steifel, the lawyer and detective, charged with conspiracy to defame Clarence S. Funk, former general manager of the International Harvester company, were defendant Donahoe requested an intervention of an attempt to tamper with the jury. Three jurors had been accepted by both sides after an attempt by counsel for the defense to have the case continued to the next term of court on account of alleged publication of partisan and sensational accounts of the trial by local newspapers.

Before the afternoon session, defendant Donahoe requested an interview with Judge Pam in his chambers and there declared that he had been approached by Venireman Elwood H. Leiby, who told Donahoe, he said, "he could be of use to him."

Donahoe said that Leiby came to his house and warned him that "they are going to job you." "You can not be of any use to me," I told him," Donahoe said. "I can get on the jury and help you," he insisted. "I don't want any money. They are going to job you, that's all."

Judge ordered Leiby brought into his chambers. Leiby is a steam-fitter. As a result of his statement to Judge Pam, subpoenas were issued for several persons living at the rooming house of which Leiby said he was proprietor.

PEORIA SUFFRAGETTE CLASHES WITH THE CHICAGO DELEGATION

Mrs. George T. Page Resents Attack Upon Record of Judge Puterbaugh Made By Mrs. Medill McCormick.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 15.—Following a scathing attack upon the record of Judge Leslie Puterbaugh, candidate for the state supreme bench from the fifth judicial district by Mrs. Medill McCormick, at a mass meeting of Peoria suffragists today, Mrs. George T. Page hotly resented the insinuations made by the Chicago woman. After rising and with her voice quivering with indignation, Mrs. Page, prominent in the Daughters of the American Revolution circles of Peoria, declared that there was no basis for the attack of Judge Puterbaugh. Then, accompanied by a number of her friends, Mrs. Page swept from the hall.

Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Sherman both of Chicago, opened the meeting as a preliminary gun in the fight on Judge Puterbaugh. Over sixty Peoria suffragists were in attendance. Mrs. McCormick attacked Puterbaugh on the corporation record asserting that in 191 personal injury cases in which corporations figured, the judiciary candidate and decided in favor of the corporations.

RESULT OF REPORTED CONFERENCE IN DOUBT

Administration Officials Without Advices as to Result of Con- ference in Mexico City

WILSON DEBATES NEXT STEP

President and Secretary of State Are Con- sidering Possibility of More Aggressive Course of Action by United States

THREE METHODS ARE SUGGESTED

BULLETIN.

MEXICO, CITY, Oct. 15.—The diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, France, Spain, Cuba, Guatemala and Norway, at a conference decided to recommend that their respective governments send warships to Mexico for the purpose of affording legation guards, should conditions so require. A member of the diplomatic corps made this statement tonight. He also said that the diplomatic representatives had recommended a temperate attitude in the matter of Mexico's reply to Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Administration officials up to the hour of closing the government departments today were without advices as to the result of the reported conference in Mexico City of the entire diplomatic corps. This development in the situation following close upon President Wilson's sharp note declaring that the United States was shocked at the "lawlessness" of General Huerta, in assuming a dictatorship over Mexico, was taken to mean here that foreign governments might bring pressure to bear in an effort to compose the situation. General Huerta's decree taking unto himself legislative as well as executive power has swept aside all hope here that the Huerta regime would re-establish constitutional government or be able to cope with the increasingly virulent fighting of the constitutionalists.

Consider Further Action.

Both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are turning over in their minds the possibility of a more aggressive course of action by the United States.

Three methods of dealing with the situation are being suggested as open to the Washington government:

First—There is the ever-recurring suggestion in official circles of a military and naval demonstration which would serve as a precautionary move in a case a forcible policy is later required. For the present, however, the president and his advisers are concentrating on a constructive solution by the use of peaceful measures.

Second—Many officials think a series of strong demands made upon the authorities at Mexico City to force the immediate elimination of General Huerta would complete the record of the United States in attempting to assist as "the nearest neighbor" in solving the difficulties of the southern republic. It has been suggested by some officials that should such demands be ignored, the American government would be justified in throwing its support to the constitutionalists in the north.

Third—The United States could formally announce its absolute termination of relations with the Huerta officials, leaving it to the influence both of the constitutional movement and liberal elements in Mexico City to secure the elimination of a provisional government with which the constitutionalists would negotiate for peace and arrange a free election in compliance with Mexican law.

Secretary Bryan left here for Waterloo, Ia., and before his departure told his callers, he did not expect the American government to take any further steps for a few days at least.

The despatch of an additional German warship to Mexican waters did not bring forth any comment as the Washington administration looks upon such action as the beginning of a series of manifestations by the governments of the world generally that may have a sovereign effect on Huerta.

After the marriage a dinner was served. They received a number of pretty and useful presents. The young people left for their new home to Indiana, Ohio and other points eastward. Upon their return they will make their home at 419 East North street and at some time later expect to locate in Portland, Ore., where the groom is interested in valuable real estate holdings.

The Steinmetz home was attractively decorated for the wedding, white and green colors being used in the parlor, pink and green in the dining room by the use of roses, ferns and autumn leaves. Among those present from away were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Brooks and Mrs. James Brooks of White Hall; Mrs. Frances Ricks and Mrs. Walter Crawford and their son, of Jacksonville.

C. J. ATOR AND MISS MATTIE CLAMPT WED IN ST. LOUIS

Ceremony Takes Place at Planters Hotel Wednesday Morning—Will Reside in This City.

A telegram was received in the city Wednesday afternoon by George Sharpe announcing the wedding of Charles J. Ator and Miss Mattie Clampt, both of this city, which took place at the Planters hotel in St. Louis Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

While it has been known to the intimate friends of the couple for some time that they were to be married, the date of the ceremony was withheld and Mr. and Mrs. Ator went to St. Louis Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock, and the news of the wedding will come as a surprise to many.

Mrs. Ator is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clampt of Ebenezer neighborhood, who until recently resided on East State street. She graduated from the Jacksonville High school with the class of 1911. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Ator of West Lafayette avenue and has for a number of years been employed at F. J. Garland & Co. Both young people are popular with a wide circle of friends. After a few days stay in St. Louis they will return to the city and reside at 326 Sandusky street.

The newlyweds informed their parents by telegram in the afternoon of the marriage.

GARNER FAMILY HAS NARROW ESCAPE WHEN HOME BURNS

Entire Kitchen of House on Beggs Farm Southwest of City in Flames When Fire is Discovered.

Members of the family of Leo Garner had a narrow escape Wednesday night about 11:30 o'clock when the tenant house on the Frank Beggs farm southwest of the city in which they resided burned to the ground. Practically all of Mr. Garner's property was destroyed, together with $55 in money which he had in the house.

Mrs. Garner's mother, who resides with the family, was awakened about 11:30 o'clock by the fire and at that time the entire kitchen was in flames. She awakened the other members of the family and they escaped. The fire had gained such headway that Mr. Garner had no time to save his money or any of the furnishings. The loss to the building, a four room structure is estimated at $400, which is fully covered by insurance.

SICK SOUR, STOMACH INDIGESTION OR GAS

Take "Pape's Diapiesin" and in Five Minutes You Will Wonder What Because of Misery in Stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on with a weak, disordered stomach; it is so unnecessary.—Adv.

JUSTICE DISMISSED CASE.

After hearing William R. T. Masters' story that he knew when he was being robbed of his diamond stud and gold watch in William Dolan's saloon, 127 South Fourth street, Springfield, during fair week, but that he did not object because he didn't want his friends to think he "was so easy," Justice Early dismissed the case against the saloon keeper in his court in Springfield Wednesday.

Dolan, Edward Moran, a waiter, and James Sullivan of Norwich, Conn., were arrested on a charge of robbery in connection with the case and the mayor of Springfield revoked the saloonkeeper's license.

SITUATION WILL BE TAKEN BEFORE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Body Lately Appointed By President Will Consider I. C. Strike Situation.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 15.—That the Illinois Central strike situation would be taken before the industrial commission lately appointed by President Woodrow Wilson was the statement of Attorney Frank Comerford, of Chicago, counsel for the Illinois Central and Harriman line strikers, in an address before the federation of labor Wednesday afternoon. He further stated that as the legislature had refused to investigate the matter he would take it before Governor Dunne.

In the morning session Miss Agnes Nestor of Chicago spoke of the defeat of the women's fifty-four law and asked the aid of the federation of labor in obtaining an eight-hour law at the next session of the legislature. Nomination of officers will come tomorrow with election Friday.

FOUND GUILTY OF DEFRAUDING
MODERN WOODMEN OF $3000

J. C. LaFrance Convicted of Collecting Insurance by False Representations.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 15.—James C. LaFrance was found guilty tonight by a jury in the United States circuit court of defrauding the Modern Woodmen of America of $3,000 by burying a corpse on the bank of the Clackamas river in June 1912 and later collecting insurance by false representations that the body was his. Other insurance policies totalling $12,000 were collected by his wife who was jointly indicted with him. After the $15,000 had been paid to Mrs. LaFrance and more than six months after he was supposed to have died LaFrance was seen alive. He was arrested at Randen, in April 1912, after he had been trailed to New Orleans and back.

INDIANA EDITOR DIES.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 15.—Charles G. Powell, veteran Indiana editor, died today at the home of his son in Niles, Mich. He was born in Monroe county, New York, in 1829, and was one of the founders of the Northern Indiana editorial association and served four terms as its president. He leaves a son in Chicago and a son in Niles.

LAND MARK DISAPPEARS.

What might be termed a land mark on West State street has disappeared during recent days, the iron fence at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crabtree. It is hardly correct either to say that the fence has disappeared for in reality it has been moved from State street to Morgan street and will protect the back yard instead of the front. The fence was built many years ago by the late F. G. Farrell and both he and Mrs. Farrell disliked the idea of removing it, although they realized that it was the only front fence on State street and one of a very few in the whole city.

DON'T FORGET.

BOGUS "ANTIQUES."

There is a Very Simple Way to Outwit the "Art Fakers."

Every little while some victim of artistic swindlers comes into court asking damages. The "antique" bookcase for which he paid $1,000 proves to be one made week before last, an exact copy of those offered at annual sales for $74.45. The "original" picture by Greuze or Corot or George Inness or Homer Martin turns out to be a fake perpetrated by some "artist" who is glad to draw a regular salary of $50 per week for helping gull the public.

In such cases the courts recover as much of the victim's money as possible. His loss in time, mortification, disgust and disappointment must be charged to experience. And for every such case which sees the light of a courtroom scores are kept concealed.

There is a simple way to outwit these "art fakers." If you are buying furniture, buy for beauty and utility, not for age. If you are buying pictures buy for art's sake, not for a name's sake. Names can be forged, age can be simulated, but beauty and usefulness are possessions in themselves, no matter from whose hand you get them.

True, this rule requires the buyer to study pictures and furniture until he knows something about them. But without such knowledge the owner gets little satisfaction out of the possessions. If people bought only those articles which they understand and approve, we should have a sadder stand of art in living in this good country.—Chicago Journal.

Bargains for Friday

We are always wishing for "that which is not." In summer we want winter; in cold weather we prefer hot—during the January sale we hear people say, "if these prices had only prevailed in October"—and so on down the line. It's just human nature. Paradoxical as it may sound, these week-end sales offer "that which is not"—values NOT to be found elsewhere in the city. In this sale we are making January prices in October. Women representing the churches of Jacksonville have canvassed the city to find out how other women will vote on the saloon question and to get signed pledges when possible of votes against the saloon. There is nothing about this canvass which borders on coercion. A canvass of poll of voters before an election is a common political practice as any party worker will tell you. That's the method men have long had of forecasting election results and of getting out the vote on election day.

The women of Jacksonville are certainly vitally interested in the question of saloons or no saloons which will be decided at the coming election. If the saloons are voted back, it is the fathers, the sons, the brothers of these women who must furnish the business for the saloons.

There are some men in Jacksonville who simply from a mere personal standpoint would welcome the return of saloons. These men like to take a social glass and enjoy the conviviality of the saloon, yet when it comes to voting they will hesitate.
A long time before casting a ballot in favor of opening saloons and so throwing temptation constantly in the way of young men.

The enforcement of the local option law has nothing to do with a man's personal habits or liberty. It simply means that the law keeps the open saloon from being a constant temptation to those who have not acquired a taste for liquor or to those who are weak and fall easy prey to the appetite when liquor is near at hand.

The city council following the report made by Commissioner Brennan after his inspection of the Hannibal municipal light plant is planning for a bond issue to so enlarge the local light plant that commercial lighting can be done. The Chamber of Commerce is taking necessary steps to secure an electrical expert to look over the local situation. This action is satisfactory to the city council and Mr. Brennan has indicated that he will be glad to meet with this expert, to get his opinions and furnish all information desired about the local plant.

Indications thus point to a get-together plan on the light question and that is what is greatly to be desired.
Based on Mr. Brennan's report of the Hannibal plant commercial lighting is a feasible proposition and it is entirely possible that Jacksonville might have a plant so operated that the street lights would be paid for out of the earnings of the business.
Mr. Brennan is to visit other cities where the municipal plants are doing commercial business and will gather all information on the subject he can.

Altogether everybody seems to be going at this proposition in a business-like way and with the firm determination to get needed lights for Jacksonville and in the best manner.
After all views and opinions have been fixed it is likely that some spirit of "give and take" will be necessary and then will be the time for everybody to get together on some reasonable light proposition and put it through.

morning I made two trips and resued more. While we were at the Volturno's side I could not see a single woman. They all appeared to be men."

Second Officer Lloyd risked his life in other ways than by his trip to the Kurfuerst. When the foremast threatened to topple it was Lloyd who climbed to the wireless plant and mended it so that communication could be maintained with the other ships. Descending, Lloyd, fell twenty feet, wounding his forehead.
This was before he took his crew and retrieved the Volturmo's last boat.

Third Engineer Alfred Pinsh, was another hero, refusing to desert the engine room until he got orders from Captain Inch to do so. Then Pinsh donned his best uniform, pocketed his mariner's certificate and five sovereigns and jumped overboard. He was rescued.

Passengers Tell of Horrors.
Passengers told of some of the terrors they say they witnessed.
Some saw women burned to death;
others, babies trampled on and killed. Several were quoted as declaring they saw officers keep back with revolvers and panic-stricken seamen who had swarmed up from the bowels of the vessel after the explosion and tried to force their way into life-boats ahead of women and children.
It was denied on behalf of officers that revolvers had been used. Third officer Disselman telling of the awful fate of the trapped passengers in the steerage said:

"None of us had thought about the eighty or ninety steerage passengers in number one compartment.
We hadn't had time to do so, we were so busy fighting the fire. I don't know how many of them were in their places when the first explosion occurred as some of them may have been in other parts of the vessel."

So, however, it was near breakfast time and I feared that most of them were there. They were cut off by lames. We cannot imagine what happened to them as none of us was able to get into that compartment again."

Captain Inch Desperate.
Further along in his story, Disselman said:

"At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon
a fierce fire broke out in No. 2 compartment. We tried to chop through the iron deck to get to it, but could not. Finally the hatchways fell in and then we poked hose and steam pipes through them and poured water on the fire. Captain Inch was desperate, he turned to me and said
I don't think she'll last long now."

He was groaning when he told me
his. His eyes were almost out.
They were so badly burned that he could not read the wireless messages and I read them to him. He didn't want to eat. I had to force him to do so. All he wanted was to save the passengers. He had lost hope of saving the ship.

"When the fire broke out in No.
2, the smoke rolled in black clouds into the bunkers. The engineers cut the water tight doors. The stokers couldn't work in the smoke and the coal supply was cut off by lames. So the engine fires died down. We used our last ounce of steam to keep the wireless plant going. When the steam was all gone we kept the wireless going by a hand generator."

Mayor Kline's committee, the Red Cross Relief Workers and representatives of various charitable organizations met the Grosser Kurfuerst at her Hooker pier and the survivors were brought to New York. Efforts will be made to unite families who are alive. The immigration rules were suspended, although many of the rescued are paupers. The Volturmo line, in whose service the Volturmo was engaged will pay the passage of survivors to their destinations.

AUTOPSY DISCLOSES FACT THAT GIRL COMMITTED SUICIDE

Bullet in Skull Indicates That Miss Haug Took Her Own Life and Was Not Murdered as at First Supposed.

Thomasville, Ga., Oct. 15.—That Miss Dorothy Haug, whose body was found in her room at a boarding house here Monday, committed suicide and was not murdered as had been supposed, was revealed today when an autopsy disclosed a bullet in the skull. The authorities have virtually accepted this explanation of the girl's death.

It had been believed Miss Haug's skull was crushed with a club and that a revolver found near the body had been used by the girl in defending herself.

GRAND MASTER DARRAH IN ANNUAL ADDRESS TO MASONS

State Head of Great Order Delivered Valedictory—Gave Facts as Shown by Record of Past Year—Criticizes Certain Tendencies.

The address of Grand Master Darrah of the Mason Grand Lodge of Illinois set forth many facts of special interest and called attention to some errors he believes members of the order make. He spoke mainly, however, about the business affairs of the order.

In Prosperous Condition. He stated at the outset that the craft of Illinois is not only in a highly prosperous condition, but is making rapid progress toward attaining a higher degree of Masonic efficiency. The growth in membership has been notable. A number of substantial Masonic halls are either in course of planning or building. It is recommended that during the coming year the grand secretary secure from the lodges of the state an exact statement of their estate holding and the value hereof, as it is considered that such information will be interesting and valuable.

Among those mentioned as having died during the past year are Samuel W. Waddle of Bloomington and Charles F. Hitchcock of Peoria.

Eleven New Lodges. During the past year dispensations were issued for the formation of eleven new lodges. In the same period Grand Master Darrah dedicated eleven Masonic halls in person and four by proxy. He also laid the corner stones of two Masonic temples, two hospitals, one library and two high school buildings. Commissions as grand lecturers to the number of the board of grand examiners, and during the year twenty-four have passed the required examination and have been enrolled as commission brethren.

Five state schools of instruction were held during the year. Ten district schools were conducted in neglected portions of the state, as provided by a special appropriation of the grand lodge, and many other district schools were conducted in the various districts.

Liberal Gifts to Flood Sufferers. The sum of $1,000 was sent to the grand lodge of Ohio in response to an appeal asking for aid for the flood sufferers.

Mr. Darrah spoke at some length on the matter of the revision of the ritual and recommended that the ritual of the special committee on revision be adopted by the grand lodge.

The two Mas. de homes at Sullivan and LaGrange were reported by the grand master to be in a flourishing condition, and a hospital building was recommended for the home at Sullivan.

Criticizes Extravagance. The retiring grand master referred in no uncertain terms to what he called a growing spirit of extravagance among the lodges of today, and said that the reports showed that too large sums were expended for banquets, cigars, jewels and other things. Soliciting donations and contributions for Masonic entertainments was also deprecated and strong disapproval was voiced against social organizations within the lodge. A crusade was also urged against undue Masonic publicity and "conspicuousness in its broad sense was urged upon every member of the fraternity.

The Grand Lecturers. Among the grand lecturers are following: A. H. Scott, past grand examiner, Lexington, Ill.; C. Bright, Normal; B. I. Pumpelly, Atlanta; H. M. Palmer and W. N. Ewing, McLean; L. E. Rockwood, W. E. Hoover, T. B. Strauss, A. O. Poff, Gibson City; T. W. Nixon, Saybrook; Samuel Middleton, Leroy; A. F. Gooch, Bellflower; Nimrod Mace, N. B. Carson, Bloomington. The following were examined during the year and recommended for commissions as grand lecturers: Fred L. Muhl, Bloomington; E. Mattison, Gibson City; Andrew T. Peters, New Holland.

DE FREITAS RELEASED FROM COUNTY JAIL

Writ of Superseas Secured From Appellate Court—Now Faces Trial By Federal Grand Jury.

Ernest DeFreitas was released from jail Wednesday for a few moments and was promptly arrested by J. S. Fairchild, Deputy U. S. Marshall and was taken to Springfield to answer a charge of bootlegging.

DeFreitas, it will be remembered, has been in jail for several weeks serving a sentence imposed by the County Court for selling liquor in anti-liquor territory. He was convicted on three counts and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and to serve 30 days in jail on each count.

Tuesday, T. F. Smith, attorney for DeFreitas, went to Springfield and secured a writ of superseas from the appellate court which made it possible for the prisoner to secure a release and give bond for his future appearance. The bond was approved Wednesday morning by Judge Thompson as signed by the defendant's parents and his sister, Mrs. W. J. Brooks. This puts the case in position to be reviewed at the spring term of the appellate court.

DeFreitas went to Springfield on the noon train with the deputy marshal and Mrs. DeFreitas, his mother, where he expected to give bond for his future appearance before the federal grand jury.

THE SHERMAN SCHOOL HAS GOOD FACILITIES

A Pleasant Visit With a Bright Array of Young Pupils—Ample Grounds With Fine Shade and Many Happy Features.

Wednesday morning a Journal reporter visited one of the pleasant and attractive places of the county, the Sherman school, taught by Miss Marjorie Kenyon, who seems to be much beloved by her pupils, whose heart is fully in the work in which she is engaged. In fact, the lady said she had taught for a number of years in grade schools in the city and much preferred her work among the bright boys and girls who flock around at the Sherman schoolhouse.

Miss Kenyon said one of her pupils won the Whipple Academy scholarship prize and she had more who were equally competent. She has four who will probably finish the full course in her school this year and they may go on still farther with their studies.

It is pleasant to be welcomed when one calls and the hearty greeting given the visitor by teacher and pupils was indeed grateful and fully appreciated. What is more delightful than the merry ways and warm greeting, bright smiles and happy faces of a troop of healthy, hearty boys and girls? If there is any such thing the writer has failed to discover it during a somewhat extended journey through life. The school yard is ample in size and is nicely shaded by tall trees. It is a pity they are not elms instead of soft maples but so far they have not been injured by storms and it is to be hoped they will not be so damaged but it would be a good idea to plant a few hard wood trees such as hard maple and elms for the trees there now are getting somewhat along in years.

The teacher said with pardonable pride that they tried to keep the school yard clean, free from sticks and rubbish and she permits no paper or similar trash to be scattered about the place. She said the recent wind had blown off some limbs and leaves which had not yet been gathered up but they were few. The last time the writer was there the stile over the front fence was out of repair but it has been fixed all right.

The interior of the place is also inviting. The school building is of ample size and has a vestibule for the reception of hats and wraps and it has been supplied with a new model heater. The walls are clean and adorned with some fine pictures bought with the proceeds of an entertainment. The supply of apparatus is good and Miss Kenyon said the directors were generous in getting what she wanted.

The pupils are among the brightest the writer has met. The way they pay attention to talks of foreign travel and the intelligent questions they ask are all truly pleasant. On this occasion they were all attentive and had a goodly number of inquiries to make so that the visit was in every way delightful. The directors of the school are Charles Black, T. P. Martin and John Laurie.

Pupils. The pupils of the school are Irene Ferguson, Hazel James, Shirley Murgatroyd, Irene Waltham, Gladys James, Helen Murgatroyd, Clara Murgatroyd, Thelma Waltham, Dora Frogg, Paul Black, Murrey Martin, Lewis Murgatroyd, Elmer Murgatroyd, Tommy Murgatroyd, Robert Sperry, Percy Sperry, Vernon Sperry, Arthur Murgatroyd, Floyd Waltham, Alonzo Hughes, Hurstel Robison, Harold James.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ball and daughter of Farmersville are guests of George Ball of Caldwell street.

Carl Hillerby made a business trip to Chicago yesterday.

After a careful investigation of the effect of no license for six years in this city, resulting not only in the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars, in population and in school enrollment, but also in a condition far worse for the boys and girls and all of the people of the city; the Business Men's Protective Association, realizing the financial and moral condition of the city, has planned a program for the improvement of streets, lights, etc., and at its regular meeting adopted the following ordinance, which they will ask the city council to adopt:

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE AND RESTRICT THE OPERATION OF SALOONS IN THE CITY OF JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS.

Be it Ordained by the City of Jacksonville, Illinois.

Section 1. Any person who shall sell any intoxicating liquors in any quantity in any room, building, yard, premises or place of public resort within the corporate limits of the City of Jacksonville, Illinois, without first having obtained a license as hereinafter provided, shall upon conviction, forfeit such goods as may be found in their possession and fined not less than $1000; or imprisoned in the county jail not less than 30 days nor more than 90 days for each offense.

Section 2. Before said license shall be issued to any person or firm, the same shall make application therefor to the City Council in writing, describing the place or premises where said business is to be conducted.

Section 3. No license granted under the provisions of this ordinance shall give the person or firm to whom such license is issued the privilege of doing business in any other place than the one described in the license.

Section 4. All saloons licensed under this ordinance shall be situated on the street front and no screens or any other device shall be used to prevent a plain view of the premises from the street at all times, day and night.

Section 5. No wine rooms shall be licensed under this ordinance or permitted in connection with saloons.

Section 6. No person or firm licensed under this ordinance shall sell or give away or allow to be sold or given by his knowledge or consent any intoxicating liquor or other beverage to any minor. Neither shall the person licensed employ any minor as a servant or clerk in any capacity in his place of business.

Section 7. No proprietor or employee of a saloon, shall sell or give away or allow to be sold or given away on his premises any intoxicating drink to any person evidently under the influence of liquor.

Section 8. The license fee shall be $1,000, payable annually in advance.

Section 9. All saloons shall be operated under the following hours: Opening at 5 a. m. and closing at 11 p. m. Remaining closed from 11 p. m. Saturday until 5 a. m. the following Monday.

Section 10. No proprietor or employee shall be allowed in their respective places of business during the time they are closed, except in case of fire or destruction by the elements, necessary care of property; or by the written consent of the Mayor or in his absence the Chief of police, and said written consent shall specify the time granted said proprietor or his employee and purpose of same.

Section 11. For the violation of any of the sections of this ordinance relative to the operations of saloons upon conviction therefor, said person or firm licensed hereunder shall pay for the first conviction $100. For the second conviction they shall forfeit their license to the city together with the amount of license paid and the said license shall not be transferable. And the city council sitting as a License Board shall have the power to revoke any license issued by them, for the violation of the conditions under which said license was issued.

Section 12. A copy of this ordinance shall be printed in readable type and hung in a conspicuous place in the room licensed; and a copy of the ordinance shall be printed on the back of each license issued and made a part of the contract between the city and the licensee.

Section 13. Any minor who misrepresents his age to secure intoxicating liquor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction for same shall be fined for the first conviction $100; for the second conviction $100 and be imprisoned in the city jail not less than 30 and not more than 90 days for each offense.

Section 14. License granted under this ordinance may be transferred when approved by the City Commissioners. But no license shall be issued for less than one year.

Section 15. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this ordinance, the Mayor and four Commissioners shall sit as a board of license commissioners when granting said licenses, or hearing complaints.

Section 16. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the foregoing are hereby repealed. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

ADOPTED BY THE JACKSONVILLE BUSINESS MEN'S PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION, OCT. 10, 1913.

Edward Keating, Secretary.

SEEK PARDON FOR MURDERERS.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 15.—The state board of pardons today listened to arguments on the petition recently presented asking for the pardon of Mrs. Kate Edwards, the Reading murderess. Mrs. Edwards was convicted in 1902 of the murder of her husband. For the past twelve years she has been confined in the Berks county jail at Reading, during which time three governors have declined to sign the warrant for her execution.

The reasons advanced for a pardon are that Mrs. Edwards, who is now 48 years old, and the mother of five living children, would probably have been convicted of second degree murder of acquitted had she told the truth, that she was debased by years of brutal treatment and ignorant; that she has served twelve years, has reformed and been sufficiently punished; that sentiment is in her favor; that if pardoned she will lead a useful life, and that she is in bad health.

Mrs. H. C. Morrow has returned to her home in St. Louis after a pleasant visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Andre of this city.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

"Germany" Schultz, the old Michigan star, is assisting coach "Hurry Up" Yost at Ann Arbor.

Harry Kersburg, the former Harvard guard, has developed a strong and well drilled team at Holy Cross this year.

Ten touchdowns in a game lasting just 44 minutes, was the record of the Princeton Tigers in their game with Fordham.

Some Harvard enthusiasts are talking 2 to 1 odds that the Crimson will beat both Yale and Princeton this year.

John Cates, the old Yale end and track captain, is helping the coaches develop the Johns Hopkins university squad at Baltimore.

Princeton began playing football in 1869, Yale in 1872, Harvard in 1874, Pennsylvania in 1876, Dartmouth in 1882 and Cornell in 1887.

Dartmouth has shown a lot of improvement lately. The Hanover eleven is lighter than for some years, but will make up for this in speed.

Washington and Jefferson has one of the heaviest teams in its history this year. The W. and J. eleven has a game with Yale Oct. 25, and expects to make a good showing against the Elis.

The University of Pennsylvania football eleven suffered a loss when it was announced that Harry Wilson, veteran tackle of last year's eleven, would not come out for the team this year.

The record score of the college teams for the season to date is that made by Beloit against De Kalb North-Haven eleven, which won when scored 116 points, making 16 touchdowns, 14 goals from touchdowns and two goals from pacement.

WITH THE BOXERS.

Jimmy Clabby and Frank Logan have been signed to box in San Francisco Dec. 25.

Joe Jeannette has been offered $2,500 to meet Georges Carpentier in Paris next month.

Camphion Willie Ritchie has agreed to box Leach Cross the latter part of this month.

Manager Jimmy Johnston is trying to match George Rodel, the Boer heavyweight, against any of the "hopes."

Singing a song in the ring, after putting the K. O. on an opponent, is the latest fad of boxers in New York.

Tom O'Rourke believes that his protegee, George Ashe, is entitled to meet either Jack Dillon, Leo Houck or Frank Klaus.

Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, wants a Boston man for referee in case Langford should meet Gunboat Smith in Boston.

Jimmy Walsh, who lost the decision in a bout with Johnny Kilbane recently, has challenged the champion to another match.

TO PUT THE LID ON DETROIT.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 15.—If the plans of Police Commissioner Gillespie are effectively carried out, Detroit will be entitled to call herself a "viceless town" after tomorrow.

Midnight tonight is the time fixed by the authorities for sounding the death knell for all disorderly resorts. Landlords and proprietors have been notified that gambling houses, "red light" resorts and other places violating the law will no longer be permitted to exist. The task of keeping the lid clamped down will be entrusted to a public moral bureau consisting of police officers and women employed by the department.

Harvard's crack half back and kicker, Charles Brickley, will be out of the game for some time, upon advice of his physician. Last Saturday against Williams college he sustained a injury to his hip which compels him to navigate with a pronounced

A GLIMPSE OF SMYRNA.

Its Greatest Business Street Is Only Fifteen Feet Wide.

Let us in imagination go ashore at Smyrna from one of the great black steamships of the Messageries Maritimes. We land on a noisy, bustling quay alongside of which runs a little one horse railway. Great ships from most of the leading ports of the world are tied up to the quay by their sterns. On the other side of the broad street, the only one in Smyrna to which this adjective can be applied, are large warehouses and one or two pretentious hotels.

Passing through a cross street, we come to the great business artery of the city, the so called "Frank street," which has doubtless obtained its name from the fact that so many Franks, a generic name for foreigners, do business on it.

This street is only fifteen feet wide, and yet it is the chief business thoroughfare of a city of a quarter of a million inhabitants. Two people stretching out their arms and touching hands in the middle could span the street, and yet through it hurries a constant stream of foot passengers, dashing cabs, stately camels, donkeys and donkey boys, beasts of burden and men of burden, carrying every conceivable article that people of the orient or the occident might want, for this is one of the chief cities in the world where east and west meet on a common footing.—Christian Herald.

GERMS IN THE BLOOD.

Why Fever and Chills Alternate When a Person Has Malaria.

When the germs of malaria—real live animals these, belonging to the order protozoa—enter the blood with the saliva of the biting mosquito they instantly attack the red corpuscles.

Each one eats its way into a corpuscle and after a brief rest divides itself into sixteen. What is left of the corpuscle is now dead. It breaks down, and the sixteen new germs—plasmodia, as the doctors call them—are set free in the blood. Each of these instantly seeks out a new red corpuscle, which it attacks in the same way.

This process, in the ordinary malaria, takes just forty-eight hours. When the germs are eating the red corpuscles the temperature of the body is increased, causing fever. When the multiplied germs are discharged into the blood the whole body feels as if chilled. This causes the shivers and shakes that usually come every alternate day and that have given us the common name "chills and fever."

So when you have the chill you may know that your broken down red corpuscles are discharging myriads of germs into your blood, and when the chill gives way to fever you may know that these germs are busy attacking your red corpuscles.—New York World.

Mother Had the Failing Too.

The visitor had dropped in "just for a minute," but she remained about three hours after the minute was up. Little Freddie had formed several plans, the execution of which must be postponed till the departure of his mother's guest. So he sat quietly thinking things.

"Dear little man," gushed the visitor. "And what is he thinking about so deeply?"

"I was wondering if it wasn't time for you to be going," said Freddie.

"Hush," said his mother. Then, turning to her guest: "You mustn't go offending Mrs. Smith. Children will go blurring out the truth without thinking. But they don't mean anything by it."

Strangely enough, it was just then that Mrs. Smith recollected that she had only three minutes in which to catch the last car home.—London Telegraph.

Exhumation of Milton.

One of the most curious instances of exhumation was that of Milton's remains at the parish church of St. Giles, Cripplegate. Doubts having been expressed as to the exact position of the grave, the ground was opened in 1790. A struggle for relics followed, bones, teeth and hair being seized by the parish officials. Crowds flocked to the church and paid the gravedigger 6d per head to see the remains, while the workmen engaged there shared in the plunder by refusing admission to any one who would not pay the price of a pot of beer. And finally the poor rector, who had not shared in the spoils, brought an action "for the recovery of dues unjustly withheld from him."—London Chronicle.

Unappreciated Help.

The doctor was once called in to treat the spoiled child of the family. After his departure the mother returned to the room and told the child that the doctor had complained that he had been very rude to him.

"Oh, mamma," replied the child, "he's just an old fogey! He got angry because I put my tongue out for him before he asked me!"—Youth's Companion.

Poor Girl.

"May I tell you the old, old story?" he asked.

She looked down, blushed and nodded her assent.

So he told her for the twenty-seventh time how he once won the game for Yale.—Brooklyn Life.

NOTES OF TRAVEL IN RUSSIA

(By S. W. Nichols).

On Train to St. Petersburg.

Dear Journal:

Our stay in Moscow came to an end this morning and we are now on our way to the great capital of the country, which we should reach this evening at eight, as the through trains in this country make fine time and the roadbeds are well kept. We had a full day program yesterday and made the most possible out of it. In the morning we attended services at the Cathedral of Our Savior and witnessed something which surpassed anything I ever before saw in that line. We were fortunate in the day, as the archbishop was the celebrant and was assisted by three bishops and four priests, so there was no lack of dignitaries.

The archbishop is not an old man, but he has a peculiar history. He was at one time a duke with great fortune and position in keeping with his title, but twelve years ago his wife died and he lost all interest in public affairs and gave himself to the church, devoting his vast fortune to the cause and entering a monastery, where he studied for six years and then was ordained a priest and began his religious career. Of course it will not be intimated that his rank and fortune had anything to do with his rapid advancement, but that as it may, he went rapidly up and in six years occupies the great position he now holds. He lives in a monastery ten miles from the city and his name is Arensie. It is said that his rooms are plainly furnished and he makes an acceptable official as far as I could learn. He is not yet an old man and we stood near the door as he emerged to take his carriage. He is a pleasant looking person, heavy, long brown hair and beard, erect step and well made clerical garb.

Like all cathedrals in this country, the one here is not supplied with seats and the vast congregation of probably three thousand persons stood throughout the long exercises, lasting from ten until almost noon. There is no instrumental music whatever, but the lack is more than made up by the grand voices of the choir. The altar is immense and the iconostasis or structure in front is of pure Italian marble and in front of that is the platform on which the services were conducted and at each side are choir stalls. The choir voices to be heard are to be found here and the choir is composed of boys and men in good numbers under the best of leaders, but while the choir was grand it was wholly overshadowed by the astonishing voice of Archdeacon Romanoff, who possesses the most remarkable vocal powers I ever heard. As he stood in front of the great altar his sonorous notes rang out in a mighty volume till it seemed as if they came from some mighty and supernatural giant singing the praises of his Creator. The responses of the choir were fully in keeping and several times I thought the whole congregation must have been joining in the anthem, but only the choir sang. On and on the services went, now the archbishop officiating and now his assistants. The robes they wore were rich with gold, jewels and gorgeous material and all connected with the service were sumptuously arrayed. The miter or crown worn by the archbishop was a magnificent affair and in keeping with all the rest of the program and accessories.

Among the other ceremonies a young priest was to be ordained and he appeared all covered with a veil standing meekly before the altar while the ceremonies proceeded. At the proper time a priest came down to him, raised the veil and he ascended the platform. The doors to the altar were opened and there stood the archbishop to receive the young candidate. The illustrious prelate took the young man by the hand and led him several times around the altar and each time as he passed a corner of the altar he stopped and kissed it reverently. He then said his first prayer and in due time he had completed the prescribed ritual and was duly ordained.

Again the archdeacon appeared and again his mighty voice rang out through the great building and as the choir responded it seemed as if the hosts of the upper spheres were assisting in the mighty volume of melody. Then when the whole array of prelates appeared in front of the altar it was indeed an impressive sight, as some were quite venerable and as all wear full beards, not shaving at all their august appearance was much enhanced. Again and again the grand volume of melody filled the vaulted dome and all the congregation bowed in unison with the spirit of the occasion, though kneeling change of attitude was out of the question.

In the rear of the church is a small gallery or loft and to that we were courteously admitted for half a ruble and found there the members of the girls' school numbering some twenty or thirty comely young people and during the exercises half a dozen like ourselves were admitted. There were a few wooden benches without backs, but from them hardly any view could be obtained, so we had to stand during a great part of the time. During certain parts of the service our guide and the young women also knelt.

It is simply impossible adequately to describe the services of the day. The mighty and gorgeous cathedral with its wonderful proportions and superb furnishings, the vested choir and the priests in the costly robes, the voices of the choir, now low and soft and now ringing out in grand chorus, the marvelous voices of the archdeacon intoning these services in tones low and gentle and then gradually rising in might to crescendo his rich voice seemed to penetrate the high vaulted dome and reach even to the sky above all combined made something never to be forgotten. I would that an abler person than I might describe the service, but no one writes a word of the Journal letter but myself and so I have done the best I could. Naturally one will contrast the exercises in this seventeen million dollar building with the meetings in log churches attended by the writer when a boy, but comparisons are odious and of course none will be made, for they would be wholly out of place. The same Creator is worshipped here as I worshipped there and the worshippers were devout and honest in both instances. The attendants placed on the archbishop his robes and descended to the floor of the church and practically all of the congregation filed before him and kissed his hand. As each did so the illustrious prelate raised his hand as if in benediction, which I suppose was the case. He seemed to be careful to give to each child, however small, an opportunity to kiss his hand and all seemed glad to do so. We didn't join that procession, but waited till almost all had left the church and then stood outside while the archbishop entered his carriage for his ride of ten miles to the place of his abode. We were fortunate in seeing the unusual services, as the archbishop has a number of cathedrals at which he celebrates mass and he may not be at this one again for some weeks or months to come.

One of the historic and interesting places near Moscow is Sparrow Hill, the place at which Napoleon waited three days, hoping and expecting to receive the keys of the city. The summer of 1812 Napoleon started with the hope of subjugating Russia and August 26th of that year the battle of Borodino was fought. Napoleon had a fine army, said by some to number 600,000 men and was composed not only of Frenchmen, but also of soldiers from other countries. General Kutsoff was in command of the Russian forces and the result of the battle was really a draw, victory being with neither side. The Russian forces were then withdrawn to the interior and to Moscow and then General Kutsoff decided on a Fabian policy, that is, a scheme to wear out his enemy with out giving battle. His generals did not all agree with him, but he quietly stated his policy and went ahead with it. He remained a short time in Moscow and then gave orders to every one in the place to move out, take away or destroy all provisions and in time to fire the city itself.

CONCORD.

Lloyd Smith returned Thursday from an extended visit of eight weeks in the east. He visited a cousin in the state of Virginia, friends in New Jersey, had quite a trip through the state of New York, a time on the beach at Atlantic City, and like all patriotic Americans, spent some time in our beautiful capital, Washington.

George Deitrich and family entertained Misses Abbie Hayden and Mabel Withee of Jacksonville over the week end at their delightful suburban residence.

Mrs. Mary A. Hamm returned Thursday afternoon from an extended visit with her son, Charles, at Whitney, Neb., and Horace of Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Lewis and Mrs. Lee Filson went to the state fair Wednesday morning and then on to Mechanicsburg to visit their aunt, Mrs. Dicey Huggins.

Louis Smith was in Concord Monday to meet Mr. and Mrs. Kemp of Georgetown, Iowa, and Mrs. Carpenter of Concordia, Kas., the ladies being nieces of his mother, Mrs. Larkin Smith, who has not seen them for almost 50 years, so it will be quite a pleasant event to each of them and an honor too, to be the guests of one so active and yet a great great grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brown attended the state fair.

Mrs. John Boyd and little son of Waverly visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moss over Sunday.

Miss Lou Morrison was a recent Jacksonville visitor.

Rev. Mr. Cain and wife attended the state fair.

The death of Thomas Finch again reminds us of the summons that comes to each in turn and warns us to heed the Master's behest, "Be ye also ready, for at such a time as ye think not the son of man cometh." In the passing of Mr. Finch Concord loses another good citizen.

Miss Hester Deitrich expects to visit friends in the southern part of the state the last of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hansmier and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy attended the fair Friday.

Edward Beard of Brighton was in Concord Monday, expecting to go to Minnesota in a few days with Edgar Cooper, prospecting.

William T. Hamilton of Winchester visited his sister, Mrs. Caldwell, Saturday on his way to Jacksonville to visit their mother, Mrs. James O. Hamilton, who is sick.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Moss entertained a remarkable company Sunday at their hospitable home east of Concord, there being five generations present: Mrs. Martha Smith, great, great grandmother, Mrs. Mary A. Hamm, great grandmother, Mrs. C. A. Moss, grandmother, Mrs. John Boyd of Waverly, and John Harrison Boyd, Jr., the first grandchild in this family. There were present beside the ones mentioned Lewis Smith, Mrs. L. B. Smith, Lloyd Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Henley and son, Claud, Misses Marie and Matilda Hamm, George Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Hamm. The hostess and her accomplished daughter, Miss Marie, served a most delightful repast at 1 p. m. and John Rayburn took a picture of the five generations.

BRILLIANT SCENE AT ROYAL WEDDING.

London, Oct. 15.—In the presence of King George, Queen Mary and a brilliant gathering of royal and distinguished personages, the young Duchess of Fife, daughter of the princess royal, was united in marriage today in the Chapel Royal of St. James' palace, to Prince Arthur of Connaught, son of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught. Both bride and bridegroom are direct descendants of the late Queen Victoria, the bride being a great grandchild and the bridegroom a grandson of her late majesty.

The ancient chapel, one of the few remains of the old palace of the Tudors, was tastefully though not elaborately decorated for the wedding. Out of respect to the bride, whose home is in the Scottish highlands, white heather figured conspicuously in the floral adornments of the chapel.

A great crowd assembled in St. James' square to watch the arrival of the bridal party and the guests. There was little to reward the curiosity of the onlookers, however, as the most distinguished of the participants and guests at the wedding did not pass through the main entrance to the chapel. The king and queen, Queen Alexandra, her sister, Empress Marie of Russia, the king and queen of Norway, and others of the royal family, made their entrance through a specially covered way erected between the Chapel Royal and St. James' palace and Marlborough house. A similar passage was provided from Clarence house for the special convenience of the Duchess of Connaught.

The ceremony was conducted by the bishop of London, who was assisted by several other well known prelates. The bishop took his stand to the right of the altar, and was followed almost immediately by the bridegroom and his supporters, the youthful Prince of Wales and his cousin, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. The bridegroom was attired in the uniform of his regiment, the Scots Greys.

WICHITA'S NEW UNION STATION.

Wichita, Kas., Oct. 15.—The Santa Fe railroad today began the use of the new union station and yards in this city, thus marking the completion and informal opening of the station and great remnant system that have been built here at a cost of more than $2,500,000.

Printed on the back of every official time table are these words: "SAFETY should be the first consideration of every employee." It is a constant admonition to every Wabash trainman, for the protection of every Wabash traveler. Beginning with the human factor, the Wabash surrounds its travelers with every mechanical safeguard known to modern railroadism: Steel equipment; automatic electric block signals; miles of double track; heavy rails and substantial roadbed; telephone dispatching, etc.

Notice to Poultry Raisers

We are now manufacturing, under state license, the best brand of chicken food on the market, known as "SUPREME CHICKEN FOOD." This food is far superior to any brand of chicken food on the market today. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food & Drugs Act, June 30, 1906, serial No. 47673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

CRUDE FAT 6 to 8 per cent.
PROTEIN 22 to 24 per cent.
FIBRE 7 to 9 per cent.

WHAT IS "SUPREME CHICKEN FOOD?"

It is a combination food consisting of meat scrap, steamed bone grit and a small percentage of clam shell grit; all clean and in a uniform size, and can be fed to large and small fowls. "SUPREME CHICKEN FOOD" is guaranteed to make your hens lay. It is the only ideal food for fall and winter use. Put up in 50 and 100 pound bags.

Price per 50 pound bag $1.50
Price per 100 pound bag $3.00

We are also manufacturing, under state license, the best brand of hog food on the market, known as "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD." It is far superior to any brand of hog food on the market today. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food & Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906, Serial No. 47673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

CRUDE FAT 10 to 14 per cent.
CRUDE PROTEIN 52.50 to 60 per cent.
CRUDE FIBRE 1 to 3 per cent.
PHOSPHATE 10 to 12 per cent.

WHAT IS "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" TANKAGE?

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil-meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuf, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE is recommended by all leading experiment stations. It is packed in one-hundred-pound burrap sacks, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD." Analysis as above. It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

WHAT "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" TANKAGE DOES.

It develops bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby saving one-third of the feed bill, one-third of the labor, one-third of the risk, increasing profits one-third.

It grows better proportioned hogs, more meat, and more fat, hence market-topper hogs. "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" Tankage fed hogs ship well with small shrink. While in no wise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" Tankage fed hogs are universally healthy. Manufactured by the

FORT BEING MADE TO AID BLIND CHILDREN OF FOOCHOW

Local School Children are Contributing Toward Fund to Assist Mrs. Wilkinson in Her Work in Teaching China's Blind.

During the early part of the present year a traveler from this city visited China and made a somewhat extensive tour of the land, observing many enterprises which were to be found in that far away country and among others he paid close attention to missions and in Foochow he saw what comes about as near a miracle as one finds in this world at the present time.

One of the great efforts of the mission boards is to send capable male and female physicians to foreign lands, for they are sorely needed since the native doctors of China are worse than nothing. To the city of Foochow Dr. Wilkinson, a congregate man, went and began his labor of love. One day there came to him a poor woman bringing her boy to have the child's eyes treated, but the good man told her the little one was hopelessly blind and the poor woman wrung her hands in despair and finally Mrs. Wilkinson took the child under her care and soon another came and another till she had 15 and then came the Boxer troubles when all must be abandoned.

When the war cloud cleared away she began her blessed work again and in time gathered about 70 boys. There are in China no state schools for the blind or unfortunate of any kind and often they are killed, starved or tortured and seldom if ever kindly treated. She was not aided by any society, for much as the mission boards would like to do for her they are simply unable to do anything. She secured the aid of local people and taught the children to make matting, twine, ropes and anything in their power and tries the utmost to teach them something which will enable them to make a living.

There are many pathetic histories connected with the school. A person who can't work in China is regarded as unworthy of living and efforts to end the lives of many of the boys had been made by their own parents. Mrs. Wilkinson tries to teach them music with her meager facilities; she has the same kind of reading books that are used here only they are very scarce. A few cast off instruments have been secured and the musically inclined have organized a band which is worthy of great praise, though here it would seem crude. The quarters are unavoidable poor, the clothing and furnishings of the cheapest and the dear old woman does so earnestly wish that she had just $1,500 for a home for her boys, but she hasn't.

Effort Here to Aid Blind.
It isn't probable that those children ever heard of Christmas, for Mrs. Wilkinson is kept busy with mind and body getting something for them to eat and an effort is being made here to secure something to make the poor little fellows happy in the glad anniversary. The case was presented at the State School for the Blind and the children and teachers all promised to make anything in their power to send to the school. Then the traveler was permitted to visit the public schools and tell the children there the story and ask them to bring to the teachers what ever each pupil could and would spare from a cent upward. As might be expected, the treatment he received was most kindly and nearly all the children in the grades of the public schools and the pupils at the State School for the Blind will bear that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

It is expected that all contributions will be in by the fifth to the tenth of November at the latest, as it takes a good while for mail to reach that far away place and could the donors see what joy their gifts will bring they would be amply repaid for all they give.

BATTLING SPIDERS.

When They Fight It Is Really a Combat For Existence.

When two or more spiders fight there is usually a good reason for the furious attack and vigorous defense that always follows.

It is not generally known that after a certain time has elapsed spiders become incapable of spinning a web from lack of sufficient material. The glutinous substance from which the spider spins its slender web is limited. Therefore, spiders cannot keep on constructing new snares for their prey when the old webs are destroyed.

Very often when the web material is exhausted they are able to avail themselves of the web producing powers of their younger or more fortunate neighbors, and this they do without any scruple whatever.

As soon as a spider's web constructing material has become exhausted and its last web destroyed, it usually sets out in search of another home and unless it should find one that is unoccupied a battle usually ensues, which ends only with the retreat or death of the invader or defender.

Such a struggle is intensely interesting and will reveal some wonderful tactics and skill in spider warfare. The invader usually comes off victorious, although in some cases the defender puts up such a stiff fight it is able to hold its own in spite of the attack of the intruder which is in desperate straits.—New York American.

Rather Otherwise.

"Is your daughter musical?"
"Well," replied Mr. Cumrox, "she seems so in conversation, but when she sings opinions differ."—Washington Star.

You may stretch a truth into a lie, but you can't shrink a lie into truth.—Selected.

CHAIRMAN DOUGLAS CALLS ATTENTION TO INSTITUTES

Is Sending Out Letter to All Sunday Schools of the County—Program of County Institutes.

Chairman George Douglas is sending out the following letter to all Sunday schools of Morgan county urging their attention to the coming institutes:

Jacksonville, Ill., Oct. 16, 1913.

Dear Fellow Workers:
In taking the office as chairman of the executive committee of the Morgan County Sunday School association I am attempting something entirely new to me, and I do so only because I am relying on the hearty support of all the workers of the county to make this coming year a great success in our county Sunday school lines.

A meeting of the committee was held at which was appointed Mr. A. A. Curry and Mr. M. B. Keplinger, the finance committee for the present year. They will ask the schools, but more particularly individuals for support. I earnestly request your hearty co-operation in our financial plans. The committee is inaugurating a campaign to raise $250 for Sunday school work in the county and state.

The county unanimously decided to push a series of institutes during October, to reach all the precincts of the county. A plan of this kind was used a year ago, and the benefits to the various schools, I am told, was the largest from any service the county association has rendered. We will have Miss Lillie Faris of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Miss Cynthia Pearl Maus of St. Louis, Mo., to assist a number of our local workers in this campaign, and we are counting on your hearty support, with attendance at least on the institutes in your precinct.

We are planning for a Morgan County Sunday school day in the spring and are counting on the hearty co-operation of every pastor, superintendent and worker in the county to make this day a great success. Particulars will be sent in due time.

Herewith is a program for the institutes under the direction of the County association to be held by Miss Faris of Cincinnati, Ohio, assisted by a number of local workers. We hope you will plan to attend the institute in your precinct and urge your school to be largely represented. Sincerely yours,

George T. Douglas.

A WOMAN'S PROBLEM

In the looking-glass a woman often sees wrinkles, hollow circles under eyes, "crow's feet,"—all because she did not turn to the right remedy when worn down with those troubles which are distinctly feminine. Backache, headache, pains, lassitude, nervousness and drains upon vitality—bring untold suffering to womanhood and the face shows it. The nervous system and the entire womanly make-up feels the tonic effect of

WHEN A WOMAN WILLS

When She Won't, Who Can Make Her?—Jacksonville Business Men's Protective Association Suggestions

(Advertisement).

The Australian ballot was intended to be secret. But if there is any truth in the reports coming to headquarters: there are several kinds of schemes being tried to intimidate the women to vote no-license. One method is that tried by a lady; member of the Christian church. She represented that she was working for the City and was out to find out how many votes there were. Of course, she inquired how they would vote. She might have got away with her deception if the wife of a city employee had not been present, visiting; this visitor expressed surprise that the city should have such an open house for a lady; she had heard that it could not pay her husband his wages. Finally this canvasser for dry votes admitted she was not employed by the city. Some people would call that a base abridgment. In the language of the street "Somebody Lied." Another select committee found a keg party and backed away, deciding no doubt they must be wet. At still another home they were politely informed by the hostess that the house was not for sale, but that she thought the ballot was secret, and did not care to express herself. The worst to date came from another district. The committee of women told their host, that their work was discouraging, and added that the license folks had rented about half of the empty houses in town and had located in each one a fallen woman, furnished her with mat and a oil stove, and would take care of her until after election for her vote. Can you beat that? If Teddy was only here, what a bunch of new members he would have for the Annapolis Club. Shame on such methods. How long will the women of this city tolerate such work? Is not this the "Athens of the West"? Do our women need such special visits to swing them one way or the other. We have always thought that a woman had a mind of her own. It's about time she uses it. Meet your committee at the front door and treat them as a lady should. But when they inform you as some committees have done it is time to show them the door. A man would hardly get away so easy. But the women trading on the protection of society have already abused this privilege. Pledges secured under threat and misrepresentation should not be considered binding. This association has pledged itself to a clean, fair fight. We expect the women to exercise this first ballot in the interest of decency-law and morality. We will show before this campaign is over, that when they vote no on election day, they will be choosing the best possible method at present for handling the question. SELLING MOVE KILLS RECOVERY IN STOCKS

LITTLE ATTENTION PAID TO MEXICAN SITUATION.

Early Improvement Seemed to be Predicted Largely on the Operations of the Trading Element—Money Market Inclined to Harden.

(By Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 15.—For a time today some of the ground lost by the stock market on Tuesday, when acute weakness in Southern Pacific and Canadian Pacific precipitated a general selling movement was retrieved, but in the final hour another selling movement wiped out much of the recovery. The early improvement seemed to be predicted largely on the operations of the trading element, whose methods or mental process in these days of professional markets defy analysis.

Little attention was paid to the Mexican situation and conditions abroad were again uncertain. London's market was somewhat confused, although the settlement there was concluded without strain but Berlin was again weak. London's prices for our securities were generally higher and that market bought 15,000 shares here, mainly United States steel and coppers.

The local movement embraced a variety of industrials. People's Gas gaining 3 points on announcement of increased dividend. Steel common and preferred, American Telephone and such speculative specialties as U. S. rubber, Westinghouse and local tractions rose a point or more.

New Haven was conspicuous among the railways for its two point gain. Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, American Canning and International Harvester were heavy. The late selling was ascribed in part to conditions in the steel industry, as reported by trade authorities and to renewed offerings of the short interest.

The local money market was inclined to harden on a better inquiry for 60 and 90 day accommodations, although rates were nominally unchanged.

BEAR CAMPAIGN BRINGS WHEAT TO NEW LEVEL

CLOSE IS WEAK AT PRACTICAL- LY THE BOTTOM FIGURES.

Predictions That Tariff Changes
Would Bring Wheat to 75 Cents Per Bushel Forms an Element to Influence the Market.

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Oct. 16.—Active campaigning on the part of bear leaders carried the wheat market today sharply under the season's previous low price, although the record for depression had been made only the day before. The close was weak at practically the bottom figures reached % to % of % of %, compared with last night. Other leading staples, too, all showed declines—corn % to %, oats % to % to % and provisions
7 1/2 to 15c.

Predictions that wheat would go as low as 75c a bushel because of the tariff changes formed one of the elements that were used to influence the market.

Long purchases on the decline brought wheat prices back about midway to nearly last night's level, but the market in the end collapsed again. The temporary upturn was due in part to a falling off in primary receipts which were more than 800,000 bushels less than a year ago. Corn went down grade chiefly as the result of a selling drive based on talk of Argentine imports being able to compete with Iowa shipments in Kansas. The fine weather added to sentiment in favor of lower prices.
At the decline, though, commission-house demand overcame considerable of the loss. Liquidating sales forced the oats down worse than any of the other cereals. The reason lay in

Lower values for hogs weakened provisions. Packers gave the market but little support.

J. A. OBERMEYER RELEASED FROM JAIL ON SUPERSEDEAS WRIT

Druggist Convicted of Selling Jamaica Ginger Sentenced For Sixty Days by Judge Brockhouse and Ordered to Pay $200 Fine—Court Denied Motion For New Trial.

In the county court Wednesday morning Judge Brockhouse overruled the motion made by William N. Hairgrove for a new trial in the case of J. A. Obermeyer, who was recently convicted of selling intoxicating liquor in anti-saloon territory. Judge Brockhouse then sentenced the defendant to thirty days in jail and a fine of $100 on each of the two counts under which he was convicted, making a total fine of $200 and costs and sixty days in jail. Mr. Obermeyer was taken to the county jail at 10:55 o'clock and was released at 4:35 o'clock after Mr. Hairgrove had made a trip to Springfield and secured from the appellate court a writ of supersedeas whereby it was made possible to admit the defendant to bail.

Claimed Errors in Instructions. In presenting argument to the court for a new trial for his client Mr. Hairgrove maintained that there were certain inaccuracies in the instructions which made it proper that a new trial be granted.

Judge Brockhouse, however, expressed the view that while there probably were some technical errors in the instructions that their general tenor was to make it clear to the jury that the defendant was to be found guilty if in their opinion it was proven that he had sold Jamaica ginger for other than medicinal purposes, with the knowledge that it was to be used as a beverage. The court reviewed the testimony of two witnesses who on the stand testified that when they were given the Jamaica ginger that they asked for something to drink and that the liquid was given to them in bottles without labels.

License Indicates Guilt.

Judge Brockhouse commented briefly upon the fact that it had been shown in the trial by the testimony of the defendant that he held a government license, on the theory that it was necessary for him to hold such a license as a protection from the federal government. The court believed that the possession of such a license was virtually an admission on the part of the defendant that he was selling goods in conflict with the Illinois local option law which is operative in this precinct. The fact that other druggists have surrendered their government licenses was an argument, the court held, that such licenses were not necessary for the conduct of the drug business along ordinary lines. He said that it was no doubt profitable to sell certain intoxicating liquids, where the law permits such sales, but that by the adoption of the local option law in this territory that such sales were no longer permissible.

Other Cases Cited.

Reference was made by the court to the decision in a Mississippi case where the defendant was convicted on a charge of selling Jamaica ginger and an appeal was taken. The higher court there took into consideration the matter of intent setting down the principle that if the Jamaica ginger was not sold by subterfuge as a medicine when it was intended for a beverage that the defendant was not guilty of violating the law prohibiting the sale of intoxicants.

In a Kentucky case which was appealed the court held that Jamaica ginger was an intoxicating liquor. The argument for a new trial was presented Tuesday by Mr. Hairgrove and was opposed by State's Attorney Tilton. Judge Brockhouse took the matter under advisement and when court convened Wednesday morning denied the motion for the trial asked explaining his view of the case as outlined above. The court was of the opinion that the defendant had been given a fair and impartial trial.

Hurried Trip to Springfield.

Mr. Hairgrove then entered a motion for arrest of judgment and this was denied. As speedily as possible then he had the final records of the case prepared and accompanied by Mrs. Hairgrove and Harry Obermeyer, went to Springfield in the Obermeyer automobile. There the case was explained to Judge Thompson of the appellate court, which is now in session, and subsequently the writ of supersedeas was granted. Under this writ it became possible for the defendant to be admitted to bail and this was fixed at $500.

Meanwhile acting upon the order of Sheriff Rogers, Mr. Obermeyer was taken to the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Todd and was placed in confinement until the return from Springfield of Mr. Hairgrove, armed with the writ. Notice of the issuance of the writ was served upon State's Attorney Tilton and afterward delivered to Sheriff Rogers when Mr. Obermeyer was released. His bond for $500 was signed by his bankers, F. E. Farrell and E. E. Crabtree. Under the writ he must appear at each term of the county court until the hearing is had in the appellate court and then if the finding of the lower court is upheld he must surrender himself to the sheriff.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

A worthy veteran of the late war, Joseph Burnett, was renewing Morgan county acquaintances yesterday. He formerly lived in the south part of the county but for some time has made his home with his daughters in Sidel, Vermillion county. He was a member of the famous Co. G, First Missouri Cavalry and his brother, James was for some time commander of the company when Captain Barbour Lewis was called to other duties. Mr. Burnett greeted a number of his former friends and was especially welcomed by the members of his company of whom there are several here yet. Last night he was a guest at the home of one of them, C. Riggs Taylor, and the two had a fine time talking over events of long ago when they faced death in the service of their country.

The Searchlight and Fog.

It will be noticed on a foggy night that the beam of a searchlight seems abruptly to come to an end if the light be pointed upward. On the other hand, if the beam be directed horizontally it will gradually fade away into nothing. Why should the vertical beam behave in this curious way? The reason is not far to seek. Where the end of the beam seems to be at just that point does the fog end, for the beam cannot be visible to us unless there are small particles in its path. This circumstance is of great assistance to sailors in judging the state of the weather, since they can determine the thickness or depth of the fog. They can also tell by throwing the beam horizontally whether the fog is of great extent or whether it exists only in patches. If the fog extends a great distance then the beam will become gradually more and more dim. If the fog exists only in patches, then the beam is lighter in patches, and if it proceeds through a place where there is no fog at all that part of the beam will be black or invisible.—Harper's.

Work of the Beaver.

The beaver's conservation work is accomplished principally by means of the dams he constructs. These dams, we are told by Enos A. Mills, author of "In Beaver World," save soil, check erosion, reduce flood damage, store water and help to sustain stream flow, provide waterholes for fish and are helpful in maintaining deep waterways by reducing the extremes of both high and low water and also reduce the quantity of sediment carried down into the river channels. When we take into consideration the fact that at one time in the country's history the beaver population was "upward of a hundred million," it is possible to realize what may have been accomplished by him along conservation lines. Like other wild creatures of mountain and plain he suffered from the advance of civilization, though he was a prime factor in bringing this about.

Fairly Won.

One of the cherished heirlooms of Dr. John Brown of Edinburgh was a Greek Testament that his great-grandfather, the Rev. John Brown, obtained under interesting circumstances.

The Rev. John began life as a herd laddie on the braes of Abernethy, and while he was still teaching himself Greek he tramped one night to St. Andrews, twenty-four miles away, to buy a Greek Testament. The bookseller to whom he confided his ambition was inclined to laugh at him, but a professor who chanced to be in the shop took the coveted volume in his hand, opened it, and turned to the young herdman.

"Boy," said he, "read this, and you shall have the book for nothing."

The boy acquitted himself to the satisfaction of his new friend and carried off the prize.

An Old, Old Question.

The servant question is not a new one, and were the wise Akiba still alive he might with right use his truism, "It has all been here before," in connection with the problem. This may be demonstrated by no less an authority than Goethe. In his "Wilhelm Meister," written in the latter days of the eighteenth century, there is a scene where the hero comes to the home of Therese, sent there by Lothario and Jarro. Receiving Wilhelm, Therese asks to be excused because of her scant board: "My cook," she says, "just ran away at a most inopportune time, and our man mangled his hand. I had to prepare all myself. Nothing bothers one more nowadays than servants; no one will serve, not even themselves."

COMPLICATION OF WOMAN'S ILLS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Athens, Texas.—"I had a complication of diseases, some of them of long standing. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and some other things that I am much better in every way and have been relieved of some of the worst troubles. My neighbors say I look younger now than I did fifteen years ago."—Mrs. SARAH R. WHATLEY, Athens, Texas, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 92.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of them state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Mr. Lavery's "Scottishness."

John Lavery, the eminent artist, is often taken for a Scotsman owing to the fact that he was brought up in Glasgow and first made his mark there. He is, however, an Irishman, born at Belfast. Soon after coming to London the young painter held an exhibition of his works. This was attended by a well known art collector, a Scotsman, who bought several pictures. In sending Mr. Lavery a check this gentleman said he was glad to be the means of helping a brother Scot.

Mr. Lavery wrote, thanking him, but pointing out that he was no Scot, but an Irishman.

"However," he added, "I am sufficiently Scottish to have delayed telling you this until I had cashed your check."

He was afraid his patron might have "stopped" the check on learning his true nationality.—London Answers.

Jeremiah Mason on War.

On one occasion Mr. Mason came into Mr. Sumner's office and found him engaged in writing an address to be delivered before a peace society. After a little good natured banter on the part of Mr. Mason and an equally good natured defense of his views by Mr. Sumner, the former, rising to take his leave, said: "Well, Sumner, you may be right, but I should just as soon think of joining a society for the suppression of thunder and lightning as a society for the suppression of war."—From Memoir of Jeremiah Mason, by G. S. Hillard.

The Drink That Was Called Robur.

About forty years ago there was advertised on London billboards a drink called Robur, said to be good for every ailment and, incidentally, the long sought after elixir of life. One was invited to send for free samples, and its marvelous properties were the subject of everybody's conversation. Robur might have been sold to this day had not some one, without the fear of a libel action before his eyes, divulged its secret formula—cold tea enlivened by rum. From that moment it fell as rapidly as it had risen, for people could make their own Robur if they wanted it.—Chicago News.

EASTERN STAR HOLDS
OPEN MEETING WEDNESDAY

Musical and Literary Program Followed by Hour of Social Enjoyment.

One of the flourishing societies in this city is Wilber Chapter, Eastern Star, which numbers among its many members some of the best people of Jacksonville. It is an organization including both gentlemen and ladies and at present it is in a flourishing condition. The objects of the order are good fellowship, sociality, fraternity, aid to the needy ones and the general promotion of good citizenship. The order here is in fine hands and the past few years have seen it grow from small proportions to its present large estate and still greater possibilities await it.

Last evening the chapter had an open meeting followed by refreshments and the occasion was one most gratifying to all present. It was truly a feast of reason, music and a flow of soul and all who had a part did their work admirably.

The committee on program were Miss Fern Haigh, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rabjohn and right well they performed the duty assigned them. It would be a pleasure to give each member a special notice, but it is impracticable, suffice to say each performer won good opinions by the exhibition of talent and ability.

At the end of the formal program a social time was greatly enjoyed by the large number present and excellent refreshments were served and greatly enjoyed. The service was superb and nothing was lacking to make the occasion a success and the large attendance showed how much interest is taken in the order.

The members of the committee on refreshments were Mrs. Velma Rowland, Mrs. John Phillips, Mrs. Eli W. Crawford, Mrs. D. T. Heimlich and Mrs. G. F. Haigh.

During the formal program Miss Fern Haigh, chairman of the committee, presided in a very capable manner. The following was the program:

Piano solo—Miss Anne Crawley.
Reading—Mrs. Ernest Frost.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Kuykendall.
Memories of the past—Mrs. Joseph Warner.
Violin solo—Miss Anna F. Bradley.

Recitation—Miss Frances Alkire.
Address—Dr. G. W. Miller.
Song, quartet—Misses Grace McCarty, Amelia Carlson, Adelaide McCarty, Edith Carlson.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

See the Styles Your Great Grandmother Wore

A Ten Thousand Dollar Moving Picture Film, three thousand feet in length, portraying by motion photography the styles of the century in contrast with those of today will be shown to our friends and customers.

The title of the film is "Mrs. Carter Worthington's Dilemma." It portrays in an interesting and fascinating way the difficulties that our women friends encounter in their efforts to procure costumes, gowns and tailored suits that meet the approval of those who know style, fit and tailoring.

Mrs. Worthington has an annoying experience in search for a new costume in which to attend The Annual Costume Pageant of the Delaware Society and her troubles are solved by her bosom friend, Mrs. Lila Laskerfield, who has discovered the merits of PRINTZESS.

During the Costume Pageant, we will introduce on film the styles of the last century beginning with the girl of 1800 and proceeding by 10 year periods up to the present day.

The third reel will portray the visit of Mrs. Lila Laskerfield to the home of PRINTZESS and just what she saw while watching the making of a PRINTZESS garment. On the last reel we show a parade of living models, wearing the styles of the season, the very garments that you will see in our department.

Come—be our guest, admission is by ticket only and no children will be admitted unless accompanied by their parents or guardians.

"Years of Experience Have Proven to Me That the MAJESTIC Range IS the Best"

"Strange, that for years, I couldn't see that trying to get good work from an old, worn-out range, merely to save the price of a new one, was not true economy. My Great Majestic has more than earned its cost in the saving of fuel alone, because the open seams and joints in my old, worn-out range where the bolts were loose and the putty had crumbled away, made me burn twice as much fuel as necessary. "Talk about luck in baking—"luck" is nothing but good oven and my Majestic oven is simply perfect. I can depend on it absolutely every day. I believe father and the children are happier and I know we have better meals at less expense with our Majestic."

MORTUARY

Freer.

Fred H. Freer, who has been ill for several weeks, died Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Freer at 236 East North street, at the age of 36 years.

He was born in Riggston, Ill., Oct. 1, 1877, and attended the public schools of that place. When he was some 15 years of age, the family moved to Arenzville and it was here that he married Miss Margaret Schaefer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schaefer. For four years Mr. Freer conducted the Arenzville Times and later moved to Canton, where he held the position of foreman of the Canton Daily Leader. From Canton he moved to Beards-town, where for some time he was associated in the grocery business with his brother-in-law, J. W. Schaefer. Two years ago he and his wife moved to Jacksonville where they have since resided.

About eight weeks ago Mr. Freer suffered a paralytic stroke and since that time has never been able to leave his bed. He was a young man of exemplary habits, industrious and possessed a spirit of kindness and consideration for others that made him many friends. He was ever ready to lend his assistance in every good work. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Besides his parents and wife he is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Walter Glines of Champaign, Mrs. Clarence Large, Miss Ina Freer, Arthur W. Freer, J. Edwin Freer, all of Jacksonville.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Presbyterian church in Arenzville, in charge of Rev. R. L. Linker of Mercedia. Interment will be in Arenzville cemetery.

Lewis.

Mrs. C. B. Lewis, aged 79 years, died at her residence, 814 West North street, Wednesday morning at 6:10 o'clock after an illness extending over a long period. The deceased suffered an attack of pneumonia about three years ago and never fully recovered. She had been an invalid for a long period and during all this time she was constantly in the care of Mrs. Hill of Liverpool, England, a trained nurse, who has been a great comfort to her.

Mrs. Lewis, whose maiden name was Mary Ann Fry, was born in Fayette county, Ky., July 18, 1834, a daughter of William and Ann Fry. When she was two years of age the family moved to Illinois, settling in Morgan county, in the neighborhood of Durbin church. October 1, 1861, she was married to Charles B. Lewis in this city and they moved to Kentucky, where they resided for nine years. Since that time they have made Jacksonville their home, with the exception of the winter months of the past several years, which they spent at their winter home in Pensacola, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis never had any children, but for many years past Miss Orena Unken has been in the home and while not a relative is considered as one of the family. The deceased was a member of State Street Presbyterian church and a woman who made friends wherever she went. She will be greatly missed, both by her many friends in Jacksonville and those in Pensacola.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence Friday morning at 10 o'clock in charge of Dr. A. B. Morey, assisted by Rev. H. D. French and Dr. F. A. McCarty. Interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Pike.

William Pike, a well known citizen of the Prentice community, died at 3:20 o'clock Wednesday morning, after a long illness. She was born in Tennessee and was 81 years of age at the time of his death. For a long time the family resided at Island Grove and a short time ago moved from Orleans to Prentice. He was a member of the Baptist church and a man of upright life and character.

Besides his wife he is survived by the following children: John of Marshall, Mo.; James D. of Franklin, Mrs. Cris Berard of Palmyra, Edward at home, Albert of Burlington, Ia.; Mrs. Ellen Johnson of Murrayville, Mrs. Newton Johnson of New Berlin, Mrs. Ben Wilson of New Berlin, Mrs. Louis Caldwell and William A. Pike of Jacksonville.

Brief funeral services will be held at the family residence in Prentice Friday and regular services will be held at 11 o'clock Friday morning at the M. E. church in Island Grove. Interment will be made in Wilcox cemetery two miles south of Island Grove.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The members of the sophomore class of the High school spent a delightful evening Wednesday at the home of one of their class mates, Fred Leach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Leach, who reside west of the city. The trip was made on two hay wagons and the moonlight ride was greatly enjoyed. The young folks enjoyed a wiener roast and part of the time was devoted to dancing. Some delicious refreshments were served. The house was decorated in green and white, the class colors. Those who acted as chaperones were Misses Anna Day, Marie Scott, Agnes Rogerson, Ione Keuchler, Paul Morrison and William Alcott.

Miss Lillian Rosenthal entertained at a miscellaneous rush Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Herman on South Church street, in honor of Mrs. Leo Johnson. The guest list consisted of about twenty-five of Mrs. Johnson's friends and a very delightful evening was spent. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strawn, who were recently married in this city, were given a china rush at their home in Alexander Wednesday evening. The affair was a surprise to the young people and was attended by a large number of their relatives. A very delightful evening was spent and the newlyweds were the recipients of a large number of presents. During the hours refreshments were served.

A progressive automobile party was held Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. John W. Angel and Miss Anne Reid, who are soon to wed. Edgar Martin, Charles Black, Dr. George E. Baxter and Charles Reid, all owners of autos, had five in each car to make up the merry party.

The first place visited was the home of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Baxter. Here the decorations were pink and white. A fine chicken pie supper was eaten, the place cards being most unique; the second course was served at the home of Charles Black, consisting of wafers, salads and other goodies. The decorations were pink and white. A short musical program was enjoyed and then the party adjourned to the home of Charles Reid, north of the city, where delicious refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening spent. The decorations here were red and everything was comfortably arranged for the visitors. In every way the entire affair was most delightful.

Misses Mittie Godfrey and Wyllie Nevius entertained the Caritas Girls' club at the home of Miss Godfrey on South Church street Tuesday night. Games and music offered diversions. The decorations were in keeping with Halloween and during the time suitable refreshments were served.

Miss Mural Stanley entertained the members of the Gleaners Sunday school class of the Ebenezer church Wednesday afternoon. Aside from the members there were a few invited friends. Various games were played and music enjoyed. Palatable refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Carpenter of Shiloh neighborhood entertained at their home Tuesday evening a crowd of young people. The hours were spent most pleasantly in games and music and during the time delicious refreshments were served.

Among those present were Walter, John and Hannah Young, Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, Ray, Mabel and Florence Bourne, Miss Zella Kelly of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gouveia, Walter and Stella Bourne, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rudisill, Frank Dodsworth, Miss Ethel Sorrells.

MODERN DUTCH FURNITURE

Modern Dutch Furniture

Limbirt's Modern Dutch Arts and Crafts Furniture is built for the requirements of modern use. Comfort, utility and durability together with structural perfection and beauty of design are the prime motives. In its solidity and permanence it reflects Dutch sturdiness and thoroughness. In the beauty of its patterns and richness and color harmony of its leathers and finishes, it preserves the mastery of Dutch Art.

Construction

Every piece of Limbirt furniture is made from solid white oak thoroughly dried, aged and seasoned. Carefully made mortise and pinned tenon joints, solid dowel construction, keyed braces and other sound devices lock its parts together. No structural limitations or subterfuges are tolerated. The front posts are tenoned through the arms and pinned, the posts projecting through the arms. Stretchers and back slats are joined in the same way, making all joints rigid and strong.

All runners on Limbirt rockers are made from straight pieces of wood bent to the proper curve in powerful steam presses. Rockers thus bent will not break because they have no short cross grain as is found in rockers that are band sawed.

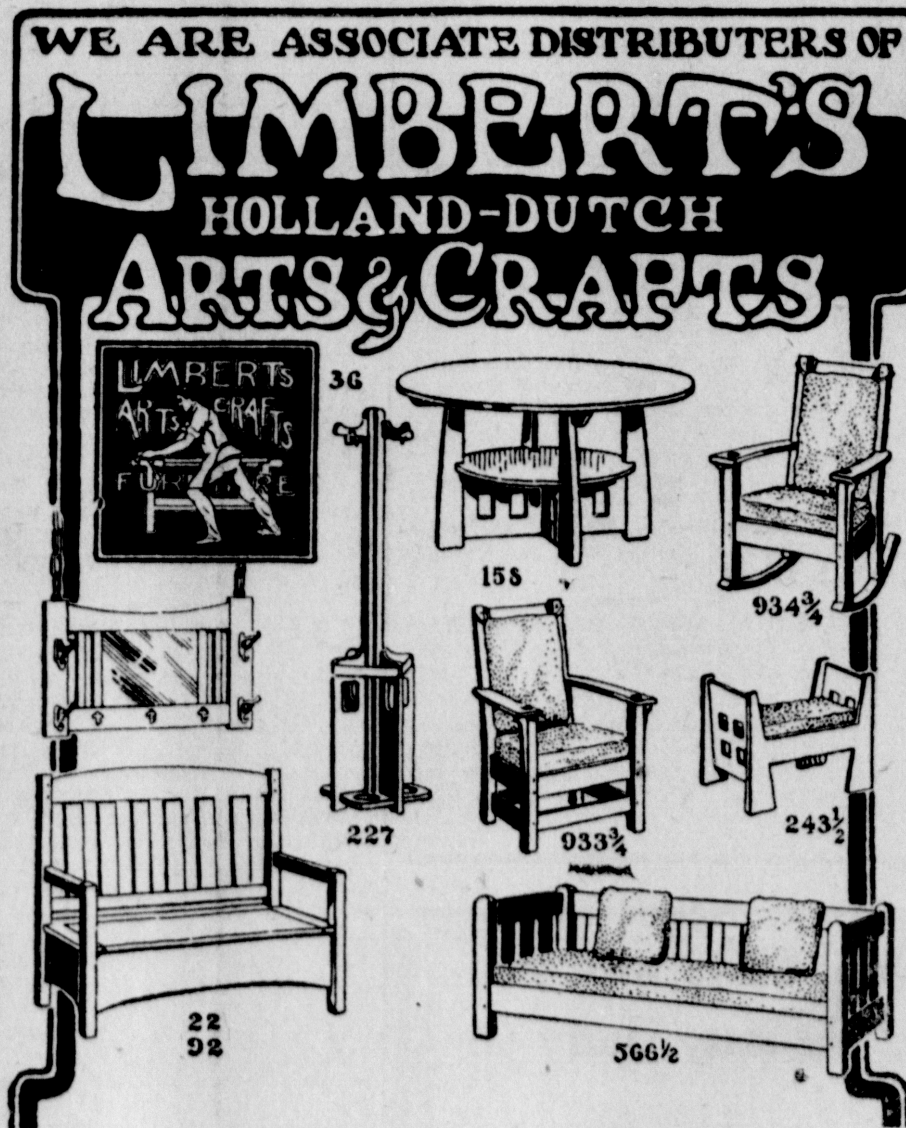

Hand work is vital in this furniture, for from hand work comes its individuality and charm. Yet we do not wish to convey the idea that it is made entirely by hand. Machinery is used only where it can be employed to improve the product.

Color and Finish

Limbirt's Modern Dutch Arts and Crafts Furniture can be procured in any color or finish that can be produced on white oak. Very characteristic are the popular brown tones of the Genuine Fumed finish obtained by subjecting the wood to the action of ammonia fumes. This finish has a rich, nut brown or autumn-leaf color similar to that of wood colored by age. It possesses a soft translucent sheen which is inimitable and harmonizes with almost any color scheme.

Spanish Morocco Leather

The leather used on Limbirt's Arts and Crafts is made from imported goat skins, it is soft and pliable as well as firm and strong. The natural grain surface lends itself to beautiful blendings of colors which are fast and it will withstand anything but misuse and is guaranteed for years of service.

Sanitary Spring Seat Cushion

Highly tempered springs are employed in the cushions of chairs, rockers and settees. For the seats these springs are double deck. The upper springs respond readily to a lightweight person and the lower springs are strong enough to support a person of the heaviest weight. These seat cushions contain three times as many springs as are usually found in the same size seats. These cushions are loose, light, clean and sanitary and as easily removed as a feather pillow.

Identification

Many makers have tried to imitate Limbirt's Holland-Dutch Arts and Crafts Furniture, yet they have never succeeded in imparting to their product the character and artistic merit of furniture that has the Limbirt trademark branded into the wood. This branded trade mark is a means of identification and a guarantee of excellence.
